

CALL FOR PAPERS

Special Session on IES Student & Young Professionals Forum (SYP)

IECON 2018 - The 44th Annual Conference of the IEEE Industrial Electronics Society
October 21-23, 2018, Washington D.C, USA

TOPIC OF THE SPECIAL SESSION

This CFP is focused, but not limited to the IEEE Students and Young Professionals (SYP). Our support indirectly can help Supervisors and Professors that would like to promote interesting work of their students and younger IEEE IES colleagues. The program offers assistance (up to USD 2000 reimbursement for travel, registration, accommodation, and meals), activities and opportunities for engineering students and young professionals (SYP) to present their R&D work in Industrial Electronics, and to help them develop networking connections. By registering for SYP Forum, you will have a priority in the IES-SYPA competition for the USD 2000 assistance by IES.

1. The IES SYP Paper Assistance (IES-SYPA).

The rules generally remain the same [1]. In addition to students, Young Professionals qualify for support as well. The goal of the IES-SYPA is to financially support travel to IES conference to attend IEEE IES SYP. The details, rules and examples of 3 minute videos for the IES SYPA can be found on the IEEE IES web site [2].

In order to apply for The IES-SYPA, please go to IECON 2018 web site in [3]. IES Students and Young Professionals that submit their work to “SY Students and Young Professionals Forum technical track in the IES Manuscript Submission System” will have a priority in the competition for IES-SYPA.

2. SYP scientific and social activities

- ✓ A SYP Tutorials and Industry Links
- ✓ A SYP Forum (IES-SF)
- ✓ Student & Young Professionals Banquet.
- ✓ The Conference Gala Dinner
- ✓ IES SYP Paper Assistance (IES-SYPA) 3 minute presentations with video (3Ms)
- ✓ Diplomas ceremony of the IES-SYPA

Timing and place of the IES-SYP activities will be announced on the IECON 2018 website [3] and in the conference proceedings.
